MELBOURNE, Saturday.

A meeting of the Federal Parliamentary War Committee was held on Wednesday, when letters were received from the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, in Sydney, offering services in connection with wounded soldiers. The committee recommended that returned soldiers should not, until after they had received their discharge, be registered for employment.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—With reference to the remarks of the Hon. W. M. Hughes, Federal Attorney-General, which appeared in your issue of to-day with regard to the City Council and Siemens Bros., I desire to point out that ever since the outbreak of hostilities between England and Germany in August, 1914, I have endeavoured to prevent the City Council from placing further orders with this firm, even under

On October 20, 1914, Mr. S. Sanderson, manager of the Sydney branch of the Simpsons Brothers, Ltd., wrote the following letter to the town clerk, together with 15 extra copies of same for circulation amongst the aldermen: "I received one, and desire to place before you the following interesting extracts before your readers:—
"On account of the present international situation I beg to submit to the governing authorities of the town the following companies concerning the English-Siaman companies:

The two companies in question are Siemens Bros. and Co., Ltd., London, and Siemens Bros. Dynamo Works, Ltd., London, with works at Woolwich, Stafford, and Dalton, and having together about 70,000 employees. The offices of the companies in Sydney are branches of the latter concern.

The main facts for consideration are three: First, that the share capital of these two companies is mainly held in Germany; secondly, that certain plant and apparatus not manufactured by them has in the past been purchased from German engineering companies; and thirdly, a small number of the employees are German subjects.

Dealing with the question of share capital first, it is stated that the information regarding this, a statement in the English press, which I believe to be correct, indicates that of Siemens Bros. and Co. Ltd., approximately 60 per cent. of the works are in Germany and 40 per cent. in England.

"Of Siemens Bros.' Dynamo Works, Ltd., I believe that a larger proportion is held in Germany than in England, and I think it is very to hand."

On October 21, 1914, the Commonwealth Parliament reprinted certain documents which had been obtained from the British Consulate at Berlin, and which were of great value regarding an official German organisation which had been established for the purpose of influencing the press of other countries, and which had been doing so in a very appropriate form to the prejudice now concerning Germany and to the attacks made upon her, and by the judicious publication of newspapers

BULGARIA.

WAR PROSPECTS.

A Serbian communique admits that the Austro-Germans crossed the Save and the Danube. The crossings were fiercely contested.

An Amsterdam message says that the Austro-Germans entered Serbia along a front extending over 250 miles.

It is officially reported in Berlin that the greater part of Belgrade has been taken, and that the Serbians are retreating southward.

Incessant fighting is reported along the entire Drinsk (Western Russia) front.

German attacks on the trenches at Loos (near La Bassée) and Tabbure (in the Champagne) were repulsed by the Allies. The French claim to have made marked progress in the Champagne.

It is officially reported that a British submarine near the German coast in the Baltic shelled and sank a German transport.

Captain C. E. W. Bean states that for a month past no movement of any sort has occurred along any part of the front in Gallipoli. He adds that it has been possible to give a real rest to part of the Australian and New Zealand troops.

"No matter what the sacrifice," says Mr. Asquith, "we shall carry the war to a victorious conclusion."

ENEMY CAPTURES BELGRADE.

ADVANCE ON A 250 MILE FRONT.

SERBIANS RETREATING.

LONDON, Oct. 10.

Reuter's Agency states that a telegram just received declares that there is no room to doubt that the attack on Serbia is the long-expected German offensive.

The fighting along the whole frontier is described as being of the fiercest character. Heavy artillery is being employed.

So far the enemy is being kept more or less in hand.

Austro-Germans have again demanded the transit of troops to Bulgaria through Romania. The latter has replied, stating that she adheres to her decision to hold up munitions.

SERBIAN COMMUNIQUE.

A communique from Nish says:—The enemy crossed the Save at Yank and other points. He crossed the Danube at Belgrade fortress and at Ram. The enemy's advance guard at Belgrade was partly destroyed and partly captured. The enemy made fierce attacks at the Save crossings. We pinned him to the brink of the river at several points, inflicting enormous losses. The struggle continues at other crossings. The German crossings of the Save and Danube were fiercely contested. There were heavy enemy losses, and many prisoners were taken.

BULGARIAN ATTACK.

A Rome message says: Bulgarian comradely attempted to wreck the Serbian-Greek railway, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

The Bulgarian forces on the Serbian frontier comprise 80,000 regulars and 20,000 comradelys.

Bulgarian troops on the Greek frontier have been sent to the Serbian frontier.

TURKEY'S HELP.

A Salonica message states that King Ferdinand has ordered the evacuation of the Bulgarian army from the Black Sea and the Aegean Sea.

Bulgarians declare that Turkey is pledged to furnish 50,000 men at Dede Agach and Varna.

The Bulgarian Minister, before leaving Italy, sent a communication to the press regretting the interruption in relations, and adding that the interruption was not desired by Bulgaria.

M. Scholnik, the Dutch Charge d'Affaires, has been entrusted with the Entente Powers' interests in Sofia.

Italy and France have handed the Bulgarian Ministers their passports.

Bulgaria, on October 5, replying to the Entente's ultimatum of September 14, regarding Macedonia, pointed out that the Entente is attempting the recognition of the principle of nationality will admit Bulgaria's right to claim the realization of her national ideal as recognized internationally before the creation of modern Bulgaria. Bulgaria implies that Serbia has irretrievably and unilaterally consented to the division of the untroubled zone in Macedonia. In view of recent events, it is doubtful whether a reply of this nature could have produced a satisfactory result.

The Serbian Government is removing the most important State and banks from Nish to Belgrade (about 58 miles south-west of Nish).

King Ferdinand has appointed General Jelenc, Commander-in-Chief of the Bulgarian forces.

BRITISH NAVAL GUNNERS.

The newspapers point out that British naval gunners are still defending Belgrade.

By Thursday evening 32,000 of the Allies' troops, including 20,000 British, had landed at Salonica. The landing continues.

The first French contingents arriving in Serbia were met by cheering crowds and offerings of fruit and flowers.

GREECE'S ATTITUDE.

The Greek Minister in Paris has notified France that M. Zaimis' policy will follow the essential principle, which Greece has followed since the beginning of the war. The Minister added: In order to better guarantee Greece's vital interests, and to insure neutrality will adapt itself to the course of events, and so far as the Entente Powers are concerned she will continue sincerely benevolent.

Rome newspapers report that the new Greek Premier, M. Zaimis, continues to insist on an impartial policy, rejecting the Quadruple Entente operations on Greek territory, and attacks on Bulgaria, if the latter attacks Serbia.

In view of pro-German allegations as to personal ill-feeling between King Constantine and the Entente, it is noteworthy that the King presented M. Venizelos with a signed protest, inscribed "In memory of our joint efforts."

SECRET TREATY.

The "Patriot" in Greek newspapers states that during Prince Hohenzollern's sojourn in Sofia a secret German-Bulgarian treaty was signed on July 17 awarding Bulgaria Northern and Southern Albania, Macedonia, and Serbian territory, including Monastir, Gevgelija, and Isvaran. Germany, under the same treaty, which Austria and Turkey signed, promised Bulgaria Salonica, Kavalla, Drama, Seres, Florina, and Kastoria.

The position has been entirely changed since July 17, and, judging by the attitude of the new Greek Government, it has previously received official German assurances that the treaty is non-existent. A British subject from Bulgaria, after studying the political situation, believes that the Government at Sofia is in a dilemma, and will do everything to avoid hostilities.

RUSSIA DETERMINED.

A Petrograd message states that events in Bulgaria have caused especially regretful anger in Russia, who has made a grim threat to make those turning against her history repeat their mistake.

The Russian are too deeply moved at the prospect of a new German triumph in Turkey making the operations on Gallipoli the harder and postponing the fall of Constantinople.

Russia is preparing a fresh army of 200,000 for the spring campaign.

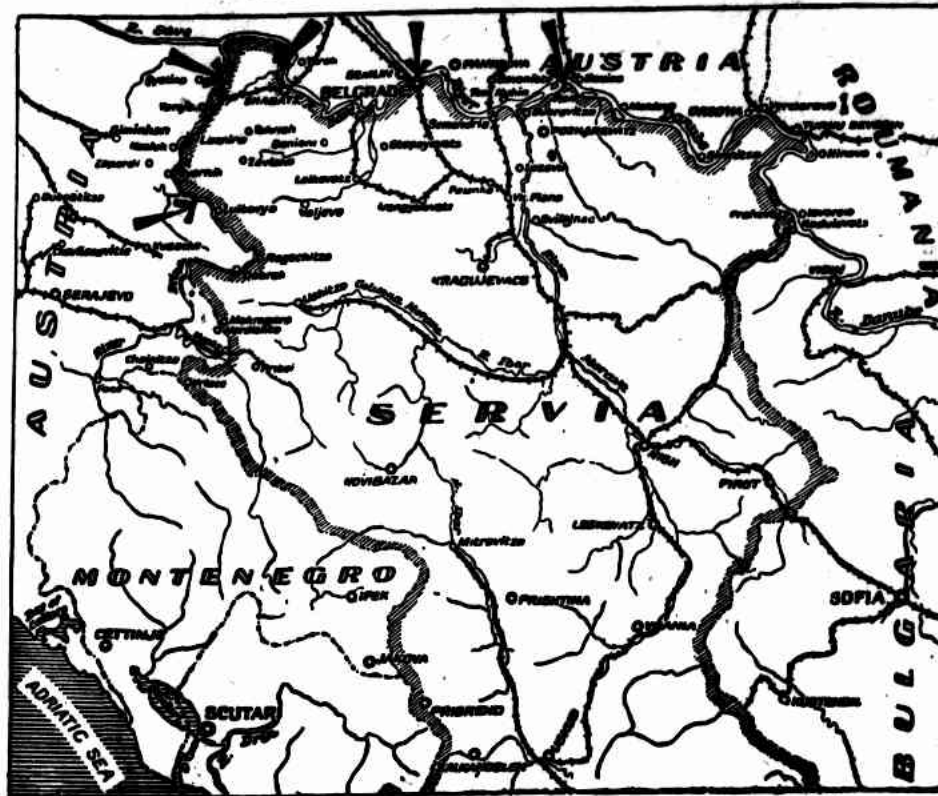

A Paris message states that allied armies in Serbia report that there are only 150,000 Austro-Germans massed to the northwards of Serbia.

The Bulgarians are short of munitions, especially for the artillery.

The forthcoming arrival of Turkish troops at Burgas (50 miles S.W. of Varna) and Varna is explained by the fact that Bulgaria is afraid to send Bulgarian troops to oppose the Russians.

A message from Sofia states that the

INCESSANT FIGHTING.

ENEMY'S FURIOUS ATTACKS.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 10.

The following communique has been issued:—

"Fighting is incessant along the entire Eastern front. The enemy has made repeated and furious attacks. In some cases the enemy took our trenches; in other parts we took the enemy's. Intense artillery fire has now developed on both sides.

The battle in progress at Garbunovka is assuming an extremely desperate character. With the assistance of German machine guns, the enemy was forced to desist in their attack at that point.

HUNGARIAN MUTINY.

REGIMENT SHOT DOWN.

ROME, Oct. 9.

The newspapers state that a Hungarian Honvéd regiment, which was ordered to the front from Toblach, was forced to march ten hours without food. The men refused to go further, and pandemics were summoned from the nearest town. They were received with hisses and laughter.

The captain shot a soldier, and a terrible fray ensued. A fresh troop arrived and shot down the mutineers en masse, all being killed except 60, who are now prisoners in the fortress at Toblach.

BRAVE LIEUTENANT.

BLOWS UP RAILWAY LINE.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

The Admiralty states that the commander of a submarine when in the Sea of Marjona reported that Lieutenant D'Oyly Hughes volunteered to attack a railway.

He proceeded in a small boat, then dropped into the water and pushed a raft carrying the demolition charge and a mine to the shore. He climbed a cliff and blew up the line 50 yards from where three men were seated beside the railway. Though he muffed the fuse the men were aroused and followed him. Shots were exchanged.

Finding it was impossible to return by the place he ascended he went further east. The charge on the railway exploded as he entered the water. Fragments fell between a quarter and half a mile away. Lieutenant Hughes swam seawards and blew his whistle, which was heard as his boat was behind the cliffs. After resting on the rocks he swam at daybreak round the last point. His whistle was then heard. Simultaneously came shouts from the cliffs overhead and a rifle fire was opened on the boat. Finally Lieutenant Hughes was picked up in an extremely exhausted condition after swimming a mile in his clothes.

Lieutenant D'Oyly Hughes has been awarded the D.S.O.

FRENCH PARLIAMENT.

AN IMPORTANT SITTING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.

Owing to an increasing demand among members of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies for fuller information regarding the Government's action in the Balkans, a conference consisting of the Foreign Affairs, the Army and the Navy Committees, and possibly the Budget Committee, totalling 150 deputies, held a joint sitting on Monday, which is unprecedented in the history of the French Parliament. The Government will make a full statement.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENTS.

AMERICAN CONSUL-GENERAL IN LONDON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Mr. R. P. Skinner, United States Consul-General in London, is unlikely to return to his post, owing to the complaint of British Government that Mr. Skinner forwarded erroneous statements to the United States regarding Britain's attempt to stifle American trade with Scandinavia in order to secure it for herself.

Britain gave proof that British trade had actually decreased.

The State Department has discussed Mr. Skinner's position, and the President admits that his return is improbable.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Workmen in an oil refinery at Marseilles have struck work because the products are being sent to Switzerland and it is suspected that they are being re-exported to Germany.

A private conference of the Miners' Federation of Nottingham rejected the Lancashire-Cheshire resolution that work in the mines should begin at 8 o'clock in the morning instead of 6 o'clock. The resolution urged that the latter hour was a remnant of barbarism and was opposed to the ideas of democracy.

The Miners' Federation has adopted a provisional scheme for an alliance with the Transport Workers' Federation and the National Union of Railwaymen. The final adoption of the scheme has been left for an early joint conference of the three unions. It is understood that the alliance, if carried out, will not operate before the war ends.

Mr. Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, has made presentations to the captain and officers of the steamer Hesperian in recognition of their heroism.

"NO MATTER WHAT THE SACRIFICE."

MESSAGE FROM MR. ASQUITH.

LONDON, Oct. 10.

Mr. Asquith, in a message to the Five Liberals, says: "In a spirit of fixed determination, no matter what the sacrifice, we shall carry the war to a victorious conclusion. We have never wavered from the first moment we took up arms at the call of duty, and no momentary difficulties can for an instant weaken it."

"WE WANT MORE SHELLS."

MUNITION WORKERS AT THE FRONT.

LONDON, Oct. 10.

A party of munition workers who visited the front, accompanied by Mr. William Bruce, Labour member for Glamorgan South, have reported to the Parliamentary Munitions Committee that they were everywhere struck with the fine relationship between the officers and the rank and file. "The war has made them a band of brothers co-operating wholeheartedly in the common cause."

On the other hand, they mention the bitter and widespread resentment of officers and men at the front at the constant appearance in certain newspapers of articles disparaging the country's efforts, and at the industrial stoppages.

"No matter what the motive, these were the cause of great indignation," the report added. "We were everywhere told 'We want more shells, particularly high explosive shells.' It is obvious that there must be merely a liberal but an unlimited supply of shells."

ROLL OF HONOUR.

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Major Arthur Tremaux, of the South Highlanders, formerly of Melbourne, was killed in action in France on September 25.

Fearless, which left Sydney on July 22 for Port Townsend, has arrived at Melbourne. The 4-m. mch. Freden, which left Melbourne on August 13, has arrived at Liqueur.

AUSTRALIA DAY FUND.

PREMIER'S STATEMENT.

Mr. Holman, the Premier, stated last night that the matter of the Australia Day Fund was being made the subject of a conference with the Hon. Mr. G. S. Ross.

"I have no doubt," said Mr. Holman, "that a satisfactory arrangement for the distribution of the fund will be arrived at. The whole question which has to be settled immediately is what we are going to do for the general amelioration of the condition of our wretched soldiers, and this I hope, will be settled at the conference."
